

Your Children Deserve A Great Education.

Make sure they get it.

Did you ever wish you could send your child to a better school? Now you may be able to do just that, thanks to a new law that promises families new rights in education. Your local school may do a lot of things well. But it could also be failing to do the best that it can for your child.

Is Your Child's School Failing?

- If you received a letter saying that your child's school "needs improvement," that means the school isn't doing a good enough job and must improve.
- Failing schools are put on a list and schools must notify you.
- To find out if your school is listed, and what you can do about it, call the Parents Network for Better Education at 1-877-881-9800.

You Have Rights:

- You have the right to know if your child's school is failing.
- You have the right to know if teachers are qualified.
- Your child may have the right to go to a different school.
- Your child may have the right to free tutoring.

Know Your Rights, and How To Use Them.

Call 1-877-881-9800

The Parents Network for Better Education

The Parents Network for Better Education

Prepared by the Parents Network for Better Education, a group of individuals organized to help all parents know and exercise their rights and to help make sure that all children have the kind of schools—and receive the kind of education—that they all deserve. The Parents Network for Better Education is a regional, federally-funded initiative designed to help parents become more informed about the options available to them, and the opportunities available to their children through the No Child Left Behind Act.

Opportunities • Options • Hope

Know your rights, and how to use them.
CALL 1-877-881-9800